COUNTY HISTORY

Shelby County's history predates Alabama's statehood. Here's how it got its start.

Shelby County was established in 1818 by an act of the Alabama Territorial General Assembly from former Creek Indian territory ceded in the Treaty of Fort Jackson in August 1814.

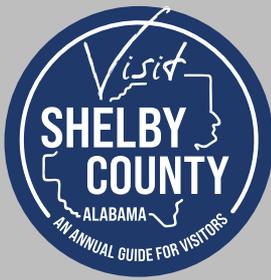

The county is named after Isaac Shelby, a Revolutionary War hero and the first governor of Kentucky, and comprises about 808 square miles of land.

Shelby County was created as part of the Alabama Territory before Alabama became a state on Dec. 14, 1819. The first county seat was located in Shelbyville, the area currently known as Pelham. Two of the delegates who served in the Alabama Constitutional Convention in 1819 and signed the first Alabama Constitution were from Shelby County: George Phillips and Thomas A. Rogers. Rogers built a county courthouse in 1820. Six years later, a permanent county seat was established in the southern part of the county at Columbiana.

According to the 1820 Shelby County census records, the county's population was 2,492 two years after its formation. Today, more than 206,000 people make up the county's population, according to the 2016 U.S. Census estimate.

As one of seven counties comprising the Birmingham-Hoover Metropolitan Area, Shelby County is bounded by Jefferson and St. Clair counties to the north, Talladega and Coosa counties to the east and Chilton and Bibb counties to the south and southwest. Two major rivers – the Coosa and the Cahaba – are located in Shelby County. About 68 percent of the population is incorporated into 17 municipalities. Shelby County boasts direct access to three major roadways, U.S. 280, Interstate 65 and U.S. 31.

OAK MOUNTAIN STATE PARK ACTIVITIES

VISITORS' ATTRACTIONS

Oak Mountain State Park in Pelham draws more than 600,000 people annually into its gates. Just one reason why is its Flip Side Watersports cable wakeboard park, the only one of its kind in the state, and its adjacent inflatable obstacle course. The park also draws visitors to its The Oaks golf course, cabin rentals, camping and more. alapark.com/parks/oak-mountain-state-park/

SPORTS & OUTDOORS

LAKE RENTALS

Stop by The Marina on Terrace Drive to rent a canoe, kayak, peddle boats or paddle board, and try some yoga while you are at it. There's also a beach and designated swimming area on Terrace Drive for visitors, picnicking pavilions there and other spots in the park, and plenty of fishing spots throughout its lakes. You can also catch fireworks by the beach at the Fourth of July.

MOUNTAIN BIKING & MORE

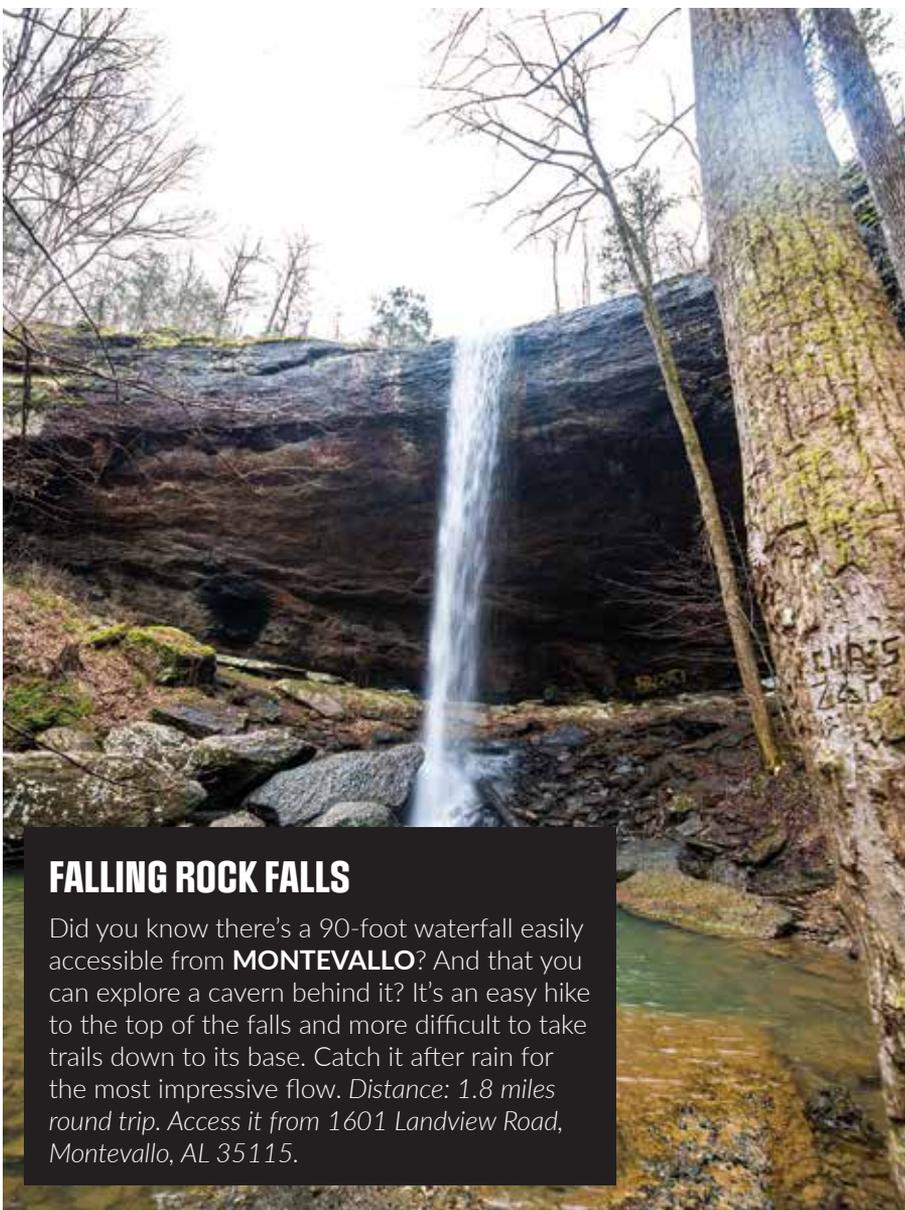

In addition to the park's hiking, there's 30 miles (and growing) of terrain with just about every condition imaginable for mountain bikers to explore—plus a BMX track too.

TRAILS & BEYOND

Oak Mountain is home to 50 miles of world-famous hiking trails traversing parts of its 10,000 acres of land, but that's not all. While there you can do archery, as well as visit the Demonstration Farm (home to goats, chickens and roosters, pigs, peacocks, donkeys, a sheep, Shetland Ponies, a rabbit, cats and miniature horses!), go horseback riding, geocache or play on the Double Oak Lake playground.

NOTABLE HIKES

FALLING ROCK FALLS

Did you know there's a 90-foot waterfall easily accessible from MONTEVALLO? And that you can explore a cavern behind it? It's an easy hike to the top of the falls and more difficult to take trails down to its base. Catch it after rain for the most impressive flow. Distance: 1.8 miles round trip. Access it from 1601 Landview Road, Montevallo, AL 35115.

DUNNAVANT VALLEY GREENWAY

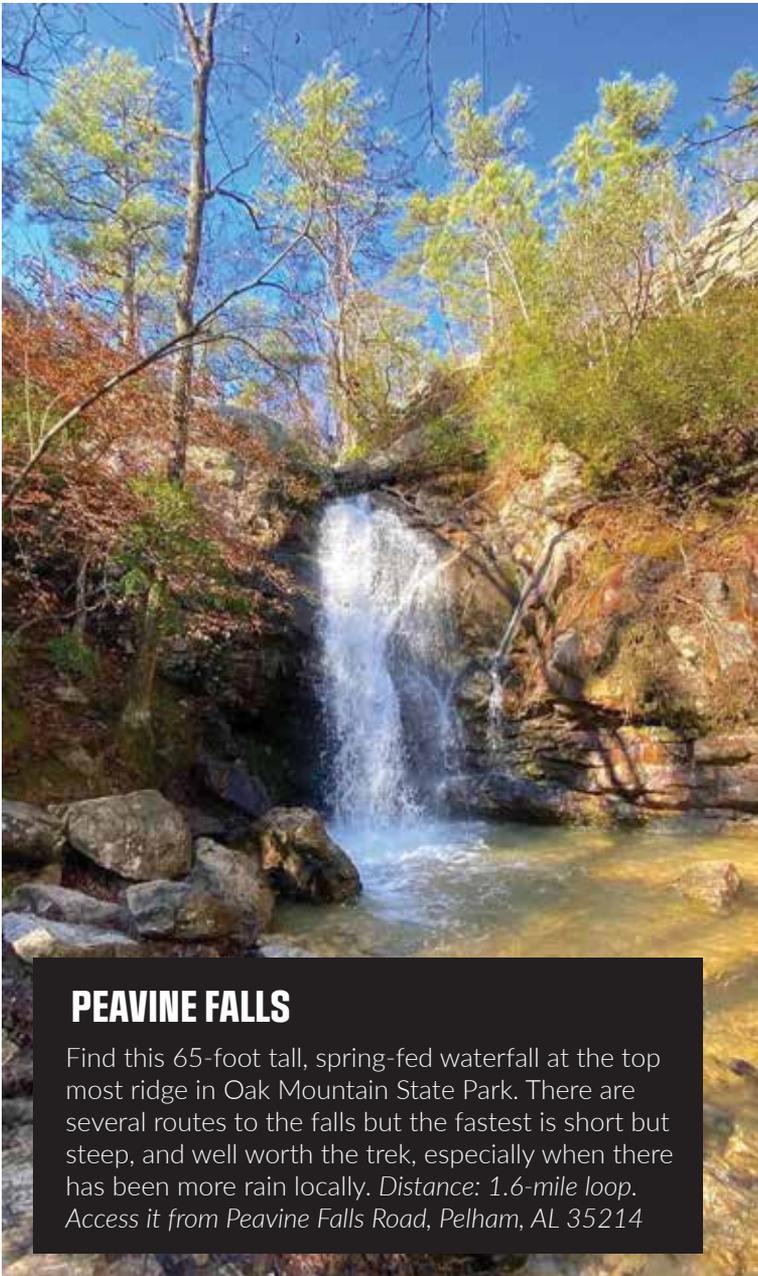

Although technically a greenway, you'll quickly feel miles away from Highway 280 as you traverse along Yellow Leaf Creek on this natural surface trail and cross footbridges over the creek near MT LAUREL. Distance: 1.8 miles one way. Access it from the Alex Dudchock Shelby County Services Building parking lot on Highway 280 or from a parking lot on Dunnavant Valley Road (Highway 41) between Birch Creek Drive and River Birch Way.

KING'S CHAIR OVERLOOK

You'll have to work hard to get this view out over miles of wooded ridges, but it's well worth the climb in Oak Mountain State Park in PEHAM. Your reward is a rock seat named "King's Chair" on this overlook. Note that it costs $5 per person to enter Oak Mountain State Park. Distance: 4-mile loop. Access it from the park's North Trailhead.

NOTABLE HIKES

PEAVINE FALLS

Find this 65-foot tall, spring-fed waterfall at the top most ridge in Oak Mountain State Park. There are several routes to the falls but the fastest is short but steep, and well worth the trek, especially when there has been more rain locally. Distance: 1.6-mile loop. Access it from Peavine Falls Road, Pelham, AL 35214

CHAMPIONS OF OUR FUTURE

CENTRAL OFFICE

Board of Education (l-r): Superintendent Dr. Wayne Vickers; Dr. John Myrick; Mrs. Jamia A. James; Mrs. Misty Johnson; Mr. Derek Henderson (Vice-President); and Mr. Adam Moseley (President)

WELCOME TO ACS!

On behalf of the Alabaster City Board of Education and all ACS employees, let me express our appreciation for your interest in our incredible school system.

This year, 2023, marks our tenth anniversary as a school system. During these past ten years, we have made outstanding progress as a city school system - progress that has put ACS on the map in terms of academics, athletics, fine arts, facilities, and much more.

We take extreme pride in the success of our students. From Pre-K programs to college and career coaching, ACS provides support for all levels of students. Our students rank among the top in the state with above-average ACT scores, a high graduation rate, millions of dollars in scholarship offers, dual enrollment success, and career placement opportunities. This success would not be possible without our world-class educators. ACS employees continually engage in lifelong learning and professional development. This allows our instruction to remain cutting-edge throughout the academic year, serving students in tremendous ways.

In just the past year, Alabaster City Schools has garnered many accolades. As a school system, we earned a coveted “A” on the Alabama State Department of Education Report Card; we ranked among the top systems in America on the Education Recovery Scorecard, and have been named the “Best School District in Shelby County” by Niche.com

All of this success could not happen without great students, engaged parents, and support from an incredible city like Alabaster. It takes an entire community to provide the best education possible for our children.

By working together, we are truly building Champions of our Future.

Sincerely,

Dr. L. Wayne Vickers
Superintendent
